DETAILED ACTION

Responsive to communications entered 6/5/2006. Claims 44-74 are pending.

The following election of species has been necessitated by applicant's amendment to the claims entered 6/5/2006 therein canceling previously examined claims 1, 32-37 and 40 and introducing species previously not considered.

Supplemental Election/Restrictions

Each genus identified below is indicated in bold. Applicant is requested to elect one species from within each genus of the elected invention.

(From claims 44,46-49) Silica containing support: silica magnetic particles; porous silica magnetic particles; non-porous silica magnetic particles; siliceous-oxide coated magnetic particles. Currently claims 44,46-49 are generic.

The species are independent or distinct because they do not share a common structural core and are used for materially different extractions.

(From claims 44,52-53) DNA: genomic; plasmid. Currently claims 44,52-53 are generic.

The species are independent or distinct because they do not share a common structural core and require materially different cell lysis conditions.

(From claims 44,56-58) medium: paper; swab; forensic sample. Currently claims 44, 56-58 are generic.

Art Unit: 1639

The species are independent or distinct because each method requires materially different DNA harvesting techniques.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).
